Plagiarism is using someone else's words, ideas, or research as your own without crediting the source.

How to Avoid Plagiarism

- Cite – Citations should be included whenever referencing another individual's work, whether paraphrasing or quoting.
- Citations usually include the author(s) and the date of the publication or similar information.
- Quote citations usually include the author(s) and the page number, or paragraph number in the case of web content.
- A reference page or page of works cited at the end of your essay should include the author(s), date of publication, title, and source.

To cite correctly, follow a commonly used document formatting guide, such as APA, MLA or Chicago. Not citing properly can lead to an allegation of plagiarism.

- Paraphrase - Read the source text you would like to reference in your essay and put it into your own words, making sure not to copy the work verbatim. If you use text as written in the original, you must use quotation marks. Citations for paraphrased work must be included.
- Quoting - If quoting a source, use the quote exactly as it appears in the original work. It is important to note that most higher education institutions discourage "block quotes" or quotes of 40 words or more. Quoting should be done whenever using someone else's text as written and must be cited to avoid plagiarism allegations.

What is Common Knowledge?

You do not need to cite a source for material considered common knowledge. Note that common knowledge can change depending on your culture and geographic location. If you are ever in doubt, always cite the source.

General common knowledge is factual information that most people know or can easily find in a number of sources. This can include birth and death dates of well-known figures, and generally accepted dates of political, literary, and other historical events.

Field-specific common knowledge is "common" only within a particular field or specialty. It may include facts, theories, or methods that are familiar to readers within that discipline.

Essays and Objectives

This section collects information about your objectives and motivations for applying for the FLTA program. In addition, you will be required to answer questions regarding your teaching methodologies and techniques and how you plan to share your culture in the U.S.

Objectives and Motivations

Please upload a well-structured essay that addresses your background and qualifications for the Fulbright FLTA Program, past experiences that have been formative in your personal development, reasons for applying to the program, and how being an FLTA will assist you in achieving your long-term career goals. Your response should be at minimum 700 words in length.

*請參考以下撰寫技巧：

Completing the Objectives and Motivations essay provides the readers with a picture of you and your career interests.

This essay will allow you to:

- Emphasize key qualifications, areas of expertise, skills and/or goals
Tip: Reflect on your overall qualifications and career goals: In what ways do they fit with the FLTA Program?
- Help the readers find out about your character/personality
Tip: Think about making a good first impression
- Tell a story
Tip: Consider: What's special, unique, distinctive and impressive about your life story?
- Present your life experience
Tip: Consider: Why might you be a better and more successful FLTA than others?
- Appeal to college/university supervisor expectations
Tip: Consider: What qualifications are most desired by college and university professors in a language teacher/assistant? What other personal qualities do you possess that would make you attractive to them? Think about what role--or roles— you expect to have on campus?

A good essay for this task will answer these questions:

1. Why are you applying for the FLTA Program?
2. What details of your life (personal or family problems, history, people or events that have shaped you or influenced your goals) might help a person better understand you or set you apart from other FLTA applicants?
3. What are your main qualifications?
4. What are your career goals?

How do you get started?

Research the Fulbright FLTA Program by visiting <https://foreign.fulbrightonline.org/about/fulbright-flta>: From your research you should know the program's purpose and the goals of the program that interest you.

A proper essay will include:

- An introductory paragraph
- At least three (3) body paragraphs
- A concluding paragraph

A proper paragraph will include:

- An introductory statement
- Supporting evidence of the introductory statement

Note: Don't write that you would make an excellent FLTA unless you can support your statement with specific reasons. Your desire to become an FLTA should be logical, the result of specific previous experience.

Remember: You will likely need to write more than one draft. Use proper grammar and punctuation. Be meticulous. Type and proofread your essay very carefully. You may want another person to read your essay and check it for errors. You should take great care to write a clear and detailed description.

Take your time. The way a person devises the essay, determines the length, and develops the response is all part of the process. The level of effort sends a message.
